DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over Fenn in view of Hirose (4,881,455).

The applied reference has a common inventor with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art only under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) might be overcome by: (1) a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not an invention "by another"; (2) a showing of a date of invention for the claimed subject matter of the application which corresponds to subject matter disclosed but not claimed in the reference, prior to the effective U.S. filing date of the reference under 37 CFR 1.131; or (3) an oath or declaration under 37 CFR 1.130 stating that the application and reference are currently owned by the same party and that the inventor named in the application is the prior inventor under 35 U.S.C. 104, together with a terminal disclaimer in accordance with 37 CFR 1.321(c). This rejection might also be overcome by showing that the reference is disqualified under 35 U.S.C. 103(c) as prior art in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a). See MPEP § 706.02(l)(1) and § 706.02(l)(2).

Fenn discloses a piston ring having a lateral surface 37 and support segments 39, 41 having retaining surfaces 43, 45 to engage the top and bottom of the piston. The ring defines a joint 47 between ends. A first tongue 49 is arranged on one end and engages an opening 51 in the other end. The first tongue includes retaining segments 53, 55 that are extensions of the support segments. The opening includes carrier segments 61, 63 that are extensions of the support segments. The piston ring has a sealing surface(s) between the ends where the segments 61/63 bear on the retaining segments 53/55. Fenn does not disclose a second tongue at the joint engaging a second opening as required by the claims. Hirose teaches a piston ring 16 comprising a lateral surface and a joint between ends. Hirose shows art equivalent joint structures in Figures 4 and 5. Hirose teaches the joint can comprise one tongue (Fig. 5, which is considered equivalent to joint in Fenn) or two tongues (Fig. 4). The joint in Figure 4 has a first tongue (near line 32) in series with a second tongue and opening (near line 36 or 28). The joint forms sealing surfaces at 40 and 42. Hirose teaches the joints are art equivalents in forming a sealed joint for piston rings. Therefore, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the art equivalent joint formation taught by Hirose on the piston ring of Fenn.

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

4. Claims 1 and 3 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 4 and 13 of U.S. Patent No. 6,719,297 in view of Hirose. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both claim a piston ring having a lateral covering surface, support segments with retaining surfaces, a joint, a tongue with retaining segments, and an opening with carrier segments forming a seal with the retaining segments. Fenn 6,719,297 fails to disclose the second tongue and opening. Hirose teaches art equivalent joint formations including one or two tongues.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 6 and 10 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

As stated above, Hirose teaches that the joint can be formed with one or two tongues. Both tongues in Fig. 4 are radially equidistant from a center axis of the ring. Also, both Fenn and Hirose disclose sealing surfaces between the ring ends.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
